

Member Class Calculation Guide

Purpose: This guide is being provided to allow you to calculate your monthly cost for classes with FitNance. It also allows you to understand your costs and prevents a delay in obtaining your monthly fee.

Things to Know Before Starting:

- 1) Your per class cost.
- 2) How many classes you take per week.
Examples: Pilates (Monday) and Line Dance (Saturday) would be 2.
Pilates and Zumba on Monday and Pilates, Zumba and Line Dance on Saturday would be 5.
- 3) See the calendar on the FitNance website to determine if there are days that class will not be held. If there is no class, the name of the class would be listed; but, would say no class and give explanation (holiday or canceled.) If the date has no class (5th week), recall you would not factor in your cost because you only pay for 4 days for each class per month.

How to Determine Your Cost

The easiest way to calculate is to multiply your per class cost by the total number of classes per week and multiply by 4.

Example 1 - 2 classes per week @ $5.00 per class:  $$10 \times 4 \text{ weeks} = $40$ ; this is based on a typical 4 days for both classes.

Example 2 – 2 classes per week @$5.00 per class:  $$10 \times 4 \text{ weeks} = $40 - $5.00 \text{ (holiday) and } $5.00 \text{ (class canceled)} = $30.*$

**note: if a class is canceled after you have paid for the month, you would deduct that amount from the next month's bill.*

Other Things to Know

- For new students, your per class cost decreases after month one and two and remains if you are consistent with taking classes every month. If for some reason, other than medical, you need to take a break and return, you would start at your initial cost until you reach month three. Your start rate would be based upon current costs.
- For multiple classes, your per class cost decreases. Once you receive your per class cost, it is already factored in.
- If you recruit a friend, you will receive a one-time 25% discount on the first month that the individual signs up; however, they must pay in advance for the full month. The 25% may be applied for each person you recruit.

Payment Due Date

It is expected that your payments are in by the 5th of each month. This allows FitNance to account for all payments and clear the books at once.
